BURNED BRIDGE CAUSES WRECK OF FAST TRAIN

Two Killed, 20 Injured In Accident On California, Arizona Border

CARS FALL INTO GULLEY

Doctors, Nurses From Jap Reception Center, Army Camp Rush To Scene

LOS ANGELES, June 26—Two persons were killed and 20 others were reported injured early today when a four-car Santa Fe passenger train crashed through a burned bridge on the California-Arizona border.

The dead: E. J. Murray of Needles, engineer.

D. L. Bentz, also of Needles, fireman.

Critically injured and not expected to live was the train's express messenger identified only as "Neel" of Phoenix, Ariz.

A government employee at Parker, Ariz., identified as "Mathewson," suffered a broken hip.

Many passengers were reported badly bruised and shaken up in the accident, but their injuries were not believed serious.

The wreck happened at the Calzona bridge, a 42-foot long structure which spans a shallow gulch nine miles from Parker and the Colorado river. Officials said the bridge was about five feet high.

Cars Go In Gully

Striking the burned bridge at a 45-mile-an-hour speed, the engine and baggage car crashed into the gulch and overturned. The crew in the engine were crushed and Engineer Murray was killed instantly.

The chair car hurtled into the gulch but remained upright. Both sleepers remained on the tracks.

All available doctors and nurses from the Japanese reception center at Desert Center, Cal., were rushed to the wreck in ambulances.

Railroad officials said: "No other train had passed over the bridge for at least ten hours (Continued on Page Three)

BING'S SALARY HIGHEST LISTED BY UNCLE SAM

PHILADELPHIA, June 26 — Harry L. Crosby, "Bing" to crooning devotees, emerged today as Hollywood's highest paid actor for 1941 in reports released by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Paramount pictures paid Crosby $300,000, his phonograph records brought him a tidy $100,640 and his radio earnings have not yet been reported.

Quipster Bob Hope, Bing's partner in several pictures, drew $294,166 from Paramount, which also paid Actor Fred MacMurray $299,333.

'VICTORY PLAN' OUTLINE DRAWN

Necessity Of Holding To Egypt At Any Cost Seen During Conference

WASHINGTON, June 26—A victory plan that calls for knocking Germany out of the war first and finishing off Japan afterward today is understood to have been drafted by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The plan was outlined by the President and the prime minister to leading members of the United Nations at an historic meeting of the Pacific war council.

Responsible diplomatic sources in Washington believe the victory plan calls for the following grand strategy of operations against the axis:

1. Stop Hitler in Europe and Africa this year;
2. Put Germany on the defensive next year and knock her out of the war by 1944;
3. Finish off Japan by 1945.

To stop Hitler this year, it is intended to hold Egypt at all costs and render increased assistance to Russia both directly and indirectly.

As long as the situation in Egypt remains uncertain, it is considered doubtful whether the United Nations will be in a position to open up a major second front in western Europe.

However, this does not rule out the possibility of intensified Commando raids, with American troops participating, on German-held positions along the European continent.

If the situation in Russia should become grave this Summer, an attempt might even be made to establish a limited diversion front in Europe with an Anglo-American force.

MAN HUNTED IN CRIME INVOLVING OHIO GIRL, 11

TOLEDO, June 26—City, county and state authorities today joined in the search of a man about 35 or 40 years old who kidnaped and criminally attacked an 11-year-old west Toledo girl after luring her into his car on the pretext he would hire her "to mind the baby."

Best clue to his identity was the girl's description of his car, which she was a blue sedan with hubcaps missing from the left wheels.

Instead of taking her to his home for the job she expected, the man took the girl to a park where he assaulted her. He brought her back to the point where he kidnaped her about two hours later.

Pay Loss During Plant Blackout Causes Strike Of 10,000 At Pontiac

PONTIAC, Mich., June 26—Strike of 10,000 workers in protest against the threatened loss of 18 minutes' pay due to a blackout test today paralyzed four Pontiac plants of the Yellow Truck and Coach company, said to be the world's largest producers of Army trucks.

The strike, according to UAW-CIO Regional Director William McAulay, was not authorized by the international union but was voted by officers of local 594 of the union.

McAulay said day shift workers who this morning found picket lines about the plants were put on strike in sympathy to night-shift employees who gave "unanimous approval" of the work stoppage.

The strike was precipitated by reports of the company intended "docking" men for 18 minutes during which machines were idle during a practice blackout of the area Wednesday.

McAulay declared the blackout was extended to the plant by the company itself, and represented no official action by Civilian Defense officers. He said:

"The blackout Wednesday night was not extended to the Yellow Truck and Coach plant, engaged in vital war production of Army trucks, by either the Army or the company."

ROMMEL HURLS BIG TANK CORPS AGAINST ALLIES

Strong British Defenses Established To Retain Mersa Matruh

AIR SUPREMACY VITAL

Empire Command Counting Heavily On Assistance Of American Planes

CAIRO, June 26—Despite strong opposition by the British Eighth Army, axis forces during the night succeeded in sending advanced units to within 30 miles of the Egyptian railhead of Mersa Matruh, the middle east high command announced today.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Italian high command issued a special bulletin claiming that axis troops are advancing to the East "in hot pursuit of the enemy."

British covering forces engaged the advanced German and Italian troops out in the Egyptian desert midway between Sidi Barrani and Mersa Matruh.

The main forces of the Eighth Army were not involved in the fighting, the communique said.

Defending units challenged the axis thrust into Egypt after the Germans and Italians penetrated to a depth of about 100 miles from the Libyan-Egyptian frontier.

Numerous forces were locked in battle 30 miles west of Mersa Matruh.

(The Exchange Telegraph company in London said that the Vichy radio in a broadcast of a Berlin dispatch reported advanced axis forces had reached a point south of Mersa Matruh. The report was unconfirmed by any reliable source.)

German General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel effected his quick advance inside Egypt almost unmolested and then was suddenly confronted by the main body of Gen. Neil M. Ritchie's Eighth Army.

Fight For Every Inch

Military quarters in Cairo predicted that Rommel's forces, consisting of the 15th and 21st Panzer divisions and the Italian Ariete division, supported by motorized infantry, will be compelled to fight for every inch of ground on the Egyptian desert.

Incessant bombardment of extended axis supply lines was begun by the Royal Air Force.

The British apparently are counting heavily on superiority in the air, augmented by American planes and United States fliers, to turn the tide of conflict in the middle east.

THREE BIG JAP ZONES BLASTED BY ALLIED UNIT

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 26—Heavy destruction was wrought in concerted United Nations air attacks against three important Japanese bases spread over a wide area of the southwest Pacific, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters revealed today.

Dili, on the occupied Dutch-Portuguese island of Timor, Rabaul, New Britain, and Salamaua, New Guinea, were subjected to heavy bombings by allied airmen.

Flying at a low altitude for a surprise night attack the United Nations fliers scored direct bomb hits on Japanese occupied buildings at Dili on the north coast of Timor. Damaging fires resulted from the attack. All the allied fliers returned safely to their base.

A night attack also was conducted against Rabaul. The allied air forces were said by Gen. MacArthur to have successfully bombed airdrome runways and building areas at the New Britain enemy base.

REDS NOTE LOSSES IN UKRAINE; HOLD BIG CRIMEAN BASE

Germans Using Battering Ram Tactics To Force Retreat At Kupyansk; Losses High

MOSCOW, June 26—Hard-hitting German forces, employing battering-ram tactics with a ruthless disregard of casualties, scored some advances today in the Ukraine but were held at a standstill before the Crimean fortress of Sevastopol.

The Red army high command announced the withdrawal of Soviet troops from the junction town of Kupyansk, 65 miles southeast of Kharkov, on the strategic Kharkov-Rostov railroad.

German Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock's troops forced the withdrawal from Kupyansk after four days of stubborn fighting by throwing in scores of tanks and an estimated 400,000 men.

Although some advances appeared to have been made by the Germans on other sectors of the Kharkov front the gains were not appreciable.

A thrust by two Nazi armored divisions, the 14th and 16th Panzer units, supported by 400 planes, was said by the Red army newspaper Red Star to have been stoutly repulsed. The futile attack, Red Star reported, was made against "an important Kharkov sector" but was repelled with heavy losses to the Germans. More than 50 Nazi tanks were destroyed, it was added.

The defenders of Sevastopol continued to smash back wave after wave of German infantry assaults.

Although reinforced by Soviet marines which reportedly carried out large-scale landings in the Crimea to assist in the defense of the Black Sea naval base, the Soviet newspaper Pravda said that the situation "remains tense."

Shell Kills 10 Germans; Poles Slain

Mysterious Explosion In Paris Reported; Reserve Officers Lined Up

NEW YORK, June 26 — Ten German soldiers were killed by a mysterious shell explosion in an industrial quarter of Paris, the British radio reported today, according to CBS.

British broadcasts also said that seven Belgian Nazis were killed and others injured in a bomb explosion at Liege, while the chief of a police district in Brussels was executed for collaboration in publication of an underground newspaper.

Revenge Claimed By Nazi Forces

LONDON, June 26 — Reuters (British) news agency today quoted Moscow radio reports from Stockholm stating that three days after the fatal wounding of Deputy Gestapo Chief Heinrich Heydrich in Prague hundreds of former reserve officers of the Polish army were arrested and sent to concentration camps and later shot.

In a number of towns, it was said, several hundred Polish officers were sent to prison and then executed.

In Silesia, according to the report, 1,200 Polish officers were imprisoned and warned that if anything untoward happened in Poland they would be shot.

South American Nation Angered

BUENOS AIRES, June 26 — Anti-German feeling flared today as Argentina awaited a reply to its note of protest to the Reich for the sinking of the freighter Rio Tercero by an axis submarine.

Police were on guard at all German-owned establishments following the stoning yesterday of three buildings occupied by German firms.

London Admits Loss Of 52 Attackers, But Claims Great Victory

U. S. CRAFT FILL ROLE

Fires Comparable To Essen And Cologne Reported By Observers

LONDON, June 26—The great German port of Bremen was severely blasted during the night by more than 1,000 British bombing planes, it was officially announced today.

Fifty-two British aircraft were reported missing. The planes included ships of all commands.

The Bremen attack was the second heavy assault against that port this month. Royal Air Force bombers raided Bremen last on June 4.

Main target of last night's raid was the submarine construction plants located at the port.

More than 1,000 aircraft, drawn from all home operational commands, participated in the night bombing," an air ministry communique said.

"The main objective was Bremen, one of the principal centers of German submarine production."

Great Fires Reported

Huge fires comparable to the blazes set during the more than 1,000 plane raids on the industrial cities of Cologne and Essen broke out in the target area.

The bombing squadrons were aided in their attack on Bremen by other planes of other commands which raided Nazi-held airfields in occupied countries to keep Luftwaffe ships on the ground and prevent interception.

"Large fires were seen," the air ministry communique said, "but considerable heavy clouds make observation extremely difficult."

"To disorganize the enemy's defenses, many airfields in the low countries were subjected to intensive harassing attacks by a force of bombers and fighters during which enemy machines were destroyed."

"Fifty-two aircraft of all commands are missing."

The Berlin radio broadcast an official German news agency report claiming 47 planes had been shot down.

PRESIDENT SAYS PLANES IN MAY SOAR TO 4,000

WASHINGTON, June 26 — American plane production in May was approximately 4,000, President Roosevelt revealed today in making public some production figures which he said hardly would give the axis an "aid and comfort."

Last month, American factories turned out over 15,000 tanks and nearly 2,000 artillery and anti-tank guns, the President also revealed.

"And here is a figure which the axis will not be very happy to hear—in that one month alone we produced over 50,000 machine guns of all types—including infantry, aircraft and anti-aircraft," Mr. Roosevelt continued.

WILDCAT STRIKE ENDANGERS BIG MILL AT LORAIN

LORAIN, June 26—Plant and union officials at the National Tube company, Lorain's largest industry, today feared the spread of a wildcat strike which crippled production in the pipe mill when 3,500 workers walked off their jobs.

Despite the pleas of William F. Donovan, district organizer of the United Steelworkers of America-CIO, and Dan F. Hurley, federal labor conciliator, that the men return to work, indications pointed to a definite stoppage of production in the pipe mill until a mass meeting tomorrow.

Since representatives of the other mills and departments of National Tube, largest subsidiary of U. S. Steel corporation, were ordered to attend the meeting, some believed the leaders of the strike were attempting to paralyze an additional 8,000 men at the plant.

Both Donovan and Thomas Pycraft, recording secretary of the local USA, condemned the stoppage as being "inexcusably illegal, unauthorized, and in direct violation of a contract signed by the company and the union last April."

The plants are engaged almost entirely in war production. The strike was called by some of the workers who charged the firm with "prolonged stalling" in settlement of grievances involving pay rates.

The strike is the first serious labor disturbance at the plant since 1896, when it was built.

GABLE NAMED MAJOR

CHICAGO, June 26 — Clark Gable, America's No. 1 film hero, has been commissioned as a major in the Army Air Force, the Chicago Herald-American said today.

Gable was commissioned yesterday and reported at Miami Beach, Fla., for preliminary training in the Air Corps Officers' training school there, the Herald-American story stated.

DEADLOCK OVER PARITY PRICES HITS CONGRESS

Deadline For Passage Of Appropriation Bill Set For June 30

UPPER HOUSE ADAMANT

Committee Must Insist On Three Questions Before Agreeing To Vote

WASHINGTON, June 26—The Senate and House are in almost hopeless deadlock today over parity price and other amendments to the $650,000,000 agriculture appropriation bill that is fast nearing the June 30 deadline for passage.

The impasse was reached when the Senate, by record votes, instructed its conference committee members to:

1. Hold out for a Senate amendment to sell 125,000,000 bushels of sealed wheat at 85 percent of the corn parity price.

2. Retain the Senate figure of $125,000,000 for rural rehabilitation loans instead of the House appropriation of $70,000,000.

3. Insist on $40,000,000 instead of $25,000,000 to carry out provisions of the Farm Tenancy act.

Sealed wheat is grain held by the Federal Commodity Credit Corporation as collateral for loans to farmers.

Although the upper house voted 46 to 13 to hold out for sale of the wheat at less than the $1.33 parity price, there was stronger division than the vote itself indicated.

Sen. Smith (D) S. C., chairman of the agriculture committee, demanded that the Senate recede from its position on the whole farm program and maintain parity prices.

Smith Hits Both
Calling attention to thumping farm prices, Smith blasted at both the agriculture program and what he termed the false price ceilings placed on food.

"Both of these plans are houses built on the sands," he said. "From time immemorial experience of all organized society has proved that the great regulators of prices are those twins of trade—supply and competition."

"Knowing the elements of agriculture and food supply as I do I would not attempt a single regulatory measure except one to destroy monopoly. To control the intricate markets of the vast domain that is America from a central point in Washington is folly."

Sen. Reed (R) Kan., demanding that the Senate hold out for sale at less than parity, said that unless the wheat can be sold for feeding to stock, the country will face a critical shortage of corn.

The conferees are expected to make another stab at settlement of their differences again today, although informally. If they continue at grips until beginning of the fiscal year on July 1, Congress will have to adopt a resolution continuing present appropriations for another 30 days while differences are ironed out.

Original Boosted

The bill as it originally passed the House appropriated $648,170,517 for agricultural purposes. The Senate boosted this to $680,383,695. A net increase of $32,213,178. The changes were carried in more than 100 amendments, including the proviso to sell wheat at less than the corn parity of about $1.10, to facilitate feeding the increased livestock population.

Rotarians Hear Henry Discuss Warden Duties

J. Wray Henry, high school principal who recently completed training at Ohio State university as an air raid warden instructor, was guest speaker at the Thursday session of the Rotary club. Mr. Henry attended the school sponsored by the American Legion and is scheduling classes for local raid wardens next week.

Men from all walks of life were in the group of 140 who studied the 40 hour course. Any men in the training who did not have first aid training had to complete a ten hour course in this work before taking the warden instruction.

Henry commended the American Legion for the splendid work it has done in promoting Civilian Defense in Ohio and the complete system of organization it has developed in all communities. Henry announced that the new air raid wardens would work closely with military authorities on information regarding city defense and laying out the detailed program of all phases of the task.

Peril Not Realized
He went on to point out that

WILLIAM CADY TO HEAD SCIOTO COMMANDERY 35

At a meeting Thursday evening, members of the Scioto Commandery of the Knights Templar Lodge No. 35 elected W. B. Cady to serve as eminent commander for the coming year. Other officers were filled in at the election with Lewis Culp to serve as generalissimo, Herbert Snyder as captain-general, Orin Dreisbach as prelate.

Frank Barnhill was named treasurer; George Roth, recorder; Harry Sark, senior warden; Joseph Peters, junior warden; Willis Kochheiser, standard bearer; John Magill, sword bearer; Fred Moeller, warden; George Roof, sentinel; and William Defenbaugh, trustee.

people in the middle states of the Union do not as yet realize their peril and not as yet realize the necessity of their cooperating in Civilian Defense programs. "In this all out war we are no safer at home than we would be on a battle front," the school leader brought out. Ohio produces one half of all war steel, ranks third in war production for the country, has many air fields and plane plants, is the center of the world's rubber industry and can easily be a major target of enemy bombers working from ports in northern Norway.

Friday, work was getting under way for Mr. Henry to begin training air raid wardens for each section of the city. These sections will include leaders knowing location of houses in their territory and other information relative to fighting fires and other menaces in time of war. Communications, utilities and other services will be checked for a complete understanding of the section's structure.

Watchers and other members of the department will be liable for duty in case of attack to care for wounded, fire fighting, plane observers, demolition crews and gas prevention squads. Due to present demands on doctors in this and other areas the new group will be the only agency likely to be available for emergency duty.

Club members were highly interested in the discussion of the new defense interests and expressed a desire to cooperate in the program.

FENCE CATCHES FIRE

Firemen were called to the home of Mrs. I. F. Snyder, Pinckney street, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 to extinguish a blaze resulting from a trash fire in the rear of the house. The trash caught fire and started to burn a rear fence.

Undercover Fight Rages for Control Of Little Business Board in Capital

By DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, June 26—Biggest undercover wire pulling in Washington, affecting millions of little businessmen, is in the selection of the five-man board to spend the $200,000,000 appropriated for small business under the Murray bill.

Big question is whether this new Small War Plants Corporation is to be administered by real friends of little business or by the same conservative big business men responsible for leaving little business out in the cold.

This has been one of the biggest botches of the defense program. In Germany every little garage has been given a war order, a small part of an airplane to put together and then send to the assembly line. In England, Beaverbrook licked the bottleneck on airplane production by distributing the business among a host of small factories.

But in the United States, the big motor and munitions moguls insisted on taking the time and much needed steel to erect brand new plants covering acres of land. Instead of farming out production to small factories forced into idleness because of lack of materials.

Finally Congress, exploding over the plight of small business, enacted the bill for the Small War Plants Corporation under the leadership of Senators Jim Murray of Montana and Jim Mead of New York.

QUESTIONABLE TRIUMPH

This was a great triumph over the $1-a-year men and their big-business-minded bureaucratic pals. But now if certain of Nelson's $1-a-year generalissimos have their way, little business is apt to continue just as much out in the cold as before.

For the man strongly urged on Nelson as head of the Small War Plants Corporation is Mark Brown, big shot Chicago banker. Leader of this undercover drive for Brown is his close buddy Sidney Weinberg, Wall Street banker and Nelson's executive assistant. In inner WPB circles, Weinberg is credited with being largely responsible for the retention of so many business-as-usual minded $1-a-yearers in WPB.

Meanwhile, other advisers are urging Nelson to appoint Louis Holland of Kansas City, who last year did an outstanding job of organizing small plants in his area into co-ops, which succeeded in obtaining war orders. Holland intimately knows the problems of small business, is a forceful and able executive and would make an ace choice for head of SWPC.

Another champion of little business urged for appointment to the board is Pete Nehemkis, who did an outstanding job on the investigation of monopolies two years ago, and who knows intimately the problems of little business. Also proposed for the board is Elizabeth Brandeis of the University of Wisconsin, daughter of the famous Supreme Court justice who spent a lifetime crusading for little business.

(NOTE: Secretly, Nelson already has promised a place as board member on SWPC to Theodore Granik, New York-Washington lawyer with potent Tammany connections, and conductor of The American Forum of the Air.)

WHILE SHIP IS BURNING

To old argument of Dolly Gann and Alice Longworth as to who sits where at dinner still seemed to be just as burning in the minds of some military leaders despite the fact that we are engrossed in our most difficult war in history.

The other day a meeting was called by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard to consider food requirements not only for this country but for the United Nations. Attending the conference were representatives from the Army and Navy, Agriculture Department and other interested agencies, and the Department of Agriculture issued a formal press release giving the names of those who attended.

Following the meeting, believe it or not, Rear Admiral William B. Young, Chief of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, protested to a Department of Agriculture official that in the formal press release his name should have preceded that of Brig. Gen. Carl A. Hardig, Chief of the Army's Subsistence division. Rear Admiral Young wanted it specifically understood that he outranked Brig. Gen. Hardig and that his name should be listed accordingly.

INCENDIARY EXTINGUISHER

If you have been worrying about a cheap and effective incendiary-bomb extinguisher, the U. S. Geological Survey has the answer.

It is aptite, a soda-lime feldspar, mined in Virginia by the Dominion Minerals Co. Tests at the Edgewood Arsenal of the Army Chemical Warfare Service showed aptite to be far superior to salt, pitch, ashes and other extinguishers in combating incendiaries.

Aptite formed a protective covering over the burning bombs so quickly that blocks of wood on which they were placed were barely charred.

To protect the public from profiteering, the Interior and Justice departments have applied for government patents for the use of aptite as an incendiary extinguisher. Under the patent the Interior department will make the use of the material available to any commercial concern that desires to market it.

Note: Aptite normally is used in the manufacture of glass and ceramics.

HOME-FRONT FLASHES

A miniature replica of Tokyo will be set up on the Texas prairies to be bombed as part of the 4th of July celebration at the Army Flying School at Midway, Tex., largest bombardier "college" in the country, which is commanded by Brig. Gen. Isaiah Davies. Congressional investigators are quietly probing numerous complaints regarding certain Reserve officers and their la-de-da social activities at Fort Custer, Mich. Under special scrutiny is a so-called Sojourners club where many of them are reported to spend too much of their time. The Army Quartermaster Corps has sent a large force of expert civilian buyers through the Midwest to purchase the pick of the canned vegetable pack. The Army expects to buy more than 10 percent of this year's pack.

HIT-SKIP REPORTED

Homer Lowery, East Mill street, reported to police early Friday that a large truck side-swiped his car at the Big Walnut creek bridge on route 23. After a check of the license plate the truck owner has been found and charges of leaving the scene of accident will probably be filed. No one was injured on the crash, but the Lowery car was damaged.

At The Cliftona

A delightful combination of dancing and music by Eleanor Powell and Tommy Dorsey's orchestra, with comedy by Red Skelton, opens Sunday at the Cliftona theatre, in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer musical comedy, "Ship Ahoy."

Miss Powell offers five completely new dance routines. In one she actually taps out a Morse code message, to notify her friends that enemy agents are operating. There is little attempt at serious plotting, the whole arrangement being happily dedicated to mirth.

Red Skelton is, as usual, imitable in his comedy role as the suitor of Miss Powell. Virginia O'Brien and Bert Lahr add to the amusement, she sings a comedy number while Lahr carols "I'll Take Tallulah."

The picture was cleverly directed by Eddie Buzzell and the supporting roles played by William Post Jr., Stuart Crawford and Bernard Nedell, are well handled. A chorus of Hollywood beauties appears with Miss Powell and provides eye-provoking atmosphere for her remarkable dancing.

Tommy Dorsey and his starring aggregation play a variety of melodies, including "Moonlight Bay," "Last Call for Love," "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You," "Hawaiian War Chant" and "I'll Take Tallulah."

Java is approximately the size of the state of Alabama.

CENTER OF NAZI SUB INDUSTRY HIT BY PLANES

London Admits Loss Of 52 Attackers, But Claims Great Victory

The loss of 52 planes was the heaviest yet suffered in a mass raid by the RAF but the total of planes destroyed was not considered excessive in view of the fact that fighter craft and fighter-bombers were included. It was pointed out that the British losses were well below the 10 percent margin, above which it is considered too costly to operate.

There were no entirely American-operated planes participating in the Bremen raid but among the attacking craft were RAF-manned American-made Havocs, Bostons and Tomahawks. These played a prominent role in raiding the German airfields.

The great industrial port of Bremen, second only in importance to Hamburg, is situated on the Weser river 46 miles inland from the North Sea.

Bremen is linked to German industrial districts by the best of the Reich's railways.

The assault by Royal Air Force squadrons against Reich territory followed a heavy raid yesterday by the British on the Nazi-held submarine base at St. Nazaire, France.

Unfavorable weather Wednesday night prevented the RAF from bombing Germany, but Nazi raiders made attacks against areas in the industrial west midlands and in East Anglia.

Birmingham Raided
(Nazi reports said their attacks with high explosives and incendiary bombs were carried out in the vicinity of Birmingham and on "militarily important objectives" in southeast England.)

BERLIN, June 26—The official German news agency DNB claimed today that German defenses shot down 47 of a reported total of 200 British planes which raided Bremen and other points in north Germany during the night.

Earlier DNB said 30 planes had been brought down, subsequently it accounted for 11 more and finally reached a total of 47.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Nazi announcement that only 200 British craft participated was seen as a German attempt to point out the effectiveness of their defenses. In the multi-squadron raids on Cologne and Essen the Germans sought to minimize in the same way the number of attacking British planes which saturated their anti-aircraft guns and resulted in comparatively small British losses.)

Mainly About People

ONE MINUTE PULPIT
Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, and establisheth a city by iniquity.—Habakkuk 2:12.

Walter Leist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Leist, left Thursday for Oxford, where he will be the local representative to the Hi-Y conference. Five hundred boys from 34 states and part of Canada registered for the confab that is a biennial affair. Miami University is the scene of the Congress which will end Monday afternoon.

George McDowell returned to his duties as county school superintendent and county rationing head Friday after attending a church conference in Wooster this week.

Jacqueline Smith, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Smith, South Court street, underwent a tonsil operation Friday in Berger hospital.

Charles Miller, East Main street, was admitted Friday to Berger hospital for medical treatment.

Mrs. Carl Thomas, South Scioto street, is a medical patient in Berger hospital. She was admitted Thursday.

Henrik Van Loon Loses Nephew

NEW YORK, June 26—The anti-Nazi short-wave broadcasts which Henrik Willem Van Loon beamed daily to Holland has resulted in the arrest and presumed execution of his 27-year-old nephew, the noted author and historian disclosed today.

Van Loon, who launched the news broadcasts to Nazi-occupied Holland 18 months ago from the powerful Boston, Mass., short-wave station, WRUL, said he had been informed through underground channels that the Germans, irked by the "light of truth," retaliated by seizing his nephew on a pretense.

"The only crime he committed," Van Loon said, "was being my nephew."

Van Loon refused to divulge the name of his nephew whom he understands was among 127 Dutchmen who faced a Nazi firing squad.

R.A.F. Scores Bull's-Eye

LONDON, June 26—The Royal Air Force scored a bull's-eye in a recent raid along the coast of Nazi-occupied Holland, German-language newspapers reaching London revealed today.

The publications noted with regret that one British bomb had fallen squarely in the middle of a gang of Dutch Nazi storm troopers busily engaged at the moment in working on coastal fortifications.

Six of them were killed outright. A state funeral was held in their honor.

the communique said, that large resultant fires were visible for 60 miles. The Japanese failed to intercept the attacking United Nations airmen and all returned safely from the raid.

Troop quarters and supply points at the Jap-held base of Salamaua were bombed and machine-gunned in the raid on enemy territory in New Guinea. No losses were suffered by the attacking force.

Sharp combat broke out over the United Nations advanced base at Port Moresby, New Guinea, when allied fighters intercepted a large force of attacking Japanese zero fighter planes.

At least five of the Japanese craft were damaged, apparently seriously. Four of the United Nations planes were hit by machine-gun fire, but none was seriously damaged and all returned to their base safely.

MAYORS ASK TEMPORARY GAS RATIONING IN OHIO

WASHINGTON, June 26—Proposals that temporary rationing of gasoline and fuel oil be extended to western New York, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and "such other midwest states as may be necessary" were placed before Secretary of Interior Ickes and Transportation Coordinator Joseph B. Eastman, today at a conference of eastern mayors.

Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York and Walter P. Hedden, chief, bureau of commerce, New York port of authority, suggested a program to move 200,000 barrels of fuel oil a day from the midwest to the stricken Eastern area.

TOO MANY RATION CARDS CHARGED TO SHIP WORKER

PHILADELPHIA, June 26—Harold A. Stevenson, 40-year-old Cramp's shipyard worker, was being held for federal authorities today after seven gasoline rationing cards good for a total of about 500 gallons were allegedly found in his car. Stevenson's automobile was described by police as "a combination of day coach, auto repair shop and cafeteria," for besides the rationing cards, the search assertedly revealed: 100 master keys, quantities of bread and canned foods, six tires, and bags of auto tools.

Lines Burned Down
Communication lines were burned down at the scene of the wreck and it was not immediately determined whether they were destroyed before or after the accident.

Railroad investigators were dispatched to the scene immediately to begin an inquiry.

The train was westbound from Phoenix, Ariz., to Cadiz, Cal., near Barstow, where it was scheduled to connect with the Santa Fe chief.

Company officials said that rails had been laid down over the gulch for the resumption of traffic.

MEXICO CITY—Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla was enroute today to Guatemala City for conferences with President Ubico of Guatemala to negotiate a trade agreement. Padilla was accompanied by a group of technical experts.

GEORGETOWN, B. G.—Six British Guiana sailors, survivors of an allied freighter torpedoed and sunk by an axis submarine, have reached their home port, it was announced today. Details of the attack were not announced.

CALL, Colombia—Public indignation grew today as the press described details of the sinking of the Colombian frigate Resolute by an axis submarine 35 miles off Providencia Island. The submarine machine-gunned the crew, killing six and injuring others as they pulled away from the sinking vessel in a lifeboat, the accounts said. The submarine was driven off by the approach of an American patrol plane.

AXIS SUB CREW TRADES WOMEN FOR FOOD SUPPLY

HAVANA, June 26—An axis submarine hi-jacked a yachting party and forced them to obtain provisions for the crew, the newspaper Prensa Libre reported today. The submarine surfaced off the northwest coast of Cuba and halted the yacht on which four prominent Havana couples were cruising, the account said.

The women were held as hostages while the men sailed their vessel into port and purchased $350 worth of food for the submarine. When they returned the food was exchanged for the women, according to Prensa Libre. The submarine captain provided the funds for the provisions.

OHIO BOYS WILL BE REGISTERED

About 400 Local Youths To Appear For Two-Day Draft Sign Up

Some four hundred Pickaway county youths are expected to register in the 18 and 19 draft program Saturday and Tuesday. Officials are not certain of the number of boys in the county but it is expected to run around this figure.

Registration will be held in the courthouse common pleas courtroom Saturday afternoon and Tuesday all day.

COLUMBUS, June 26—Thousands of Ohio boys between the ages of 18 and 20 years and six months on or before June 30, today were preparing to participate in the nation's fifth Selective Service registration.

President Roosevelt fixed Tuesday, June 30, between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. as the time for this registration, but Col. C. W. Goble, state Selective Service director, has designated Saturday, June 27, between 12 noon and 6 p. m. as an additional registration day.

Col. Goble explained that this additional period will be for those men, who, by reason of their employment of civilian activities, will be at a disadvantage to present themselves for registration on a single day.

The fifth registration will include all men who were born on or after January 1, 1922, and on or before June 30, 1924, and who have not heretofore registered.

Col. Goble said that places of registration will be provided by the chairman of each local board without expense to the government in the same manner as was done for the third and fourth registrations. All men will be registered on the gray colored registration cards.

BEETLES HUNTED BY AGRICULTURE OFFICE LOCALLY

John W. Baringer, specialist in charge, section of insect and plant disease control, announced Friday that the Ohio Department of Agriculture, cooperating with local officials and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, will place a number of metal insect traps in Circleville during the next few days to obtain information on the occurrence and status of the Japanese beetle to aid in determining what control measures might be advisable.

Most of the traps will be placed in residential sections and Mr. Baringer asks residents to cooperate by allowing the traps to be placed on their properties for a period of about 30 days. Traps function best when placed in sunny locations at least 15 feet away from host plants and residents are asked not to move the traps without first consulting the inspector.

The inspectors carry credentials which will be produced on request. Local police have been notified about the work.

The Japanese beetle is an introduced plant pest. In the vicinity of New Jersey it appears as an adult beetle about the middle of June and is most abundant and active during July and August. Farther south it may appear earlier.

The adult beetle is about one fourth inches long, colored green and brown with rows of white spots down each side of the body. It is a voracious feeder, causing great damage to blossoms, fruit and foliage of many plants, including apple, peach, cherry, grape, corn, soy beans, elm, linden, rose and hollyhock. Soon after emergence female beetles begin depositing eggs in the soil. After the eggs hatch, the grubs feed on roots of grasses and other vegetation, causing considerable damage to turf in lawns and golf greens. The beetles overwinter as grubs in the ground.

OPEN LETTERS ### TO RESIDENTS

ALL: Uncle Sam is calling for scrap of all kinds, and his need for metals is imperative. Production of the things with which our boys are fighting the axis must not bog down; we must do all in our power to help. Here's a suggestion. Circleville very likely has more properties surrounded by iron fences than any other city in central Ohio. Many of the fences are unsightly, in poor state of repair, and truly eyesores in many respects. Some are left with their gates swinging open in day and night. On the other hand some of the property owners take good care of their fences, painting them regularly, keeping gates closed. Why couldn't many of the fences be torn down and turned over to Uncle Sam for his war effort? They certainly are no good in their present condition.

TO SERVICE STATION MEN

FOLK: Recent reports indicate that the rubber drive in Pickaway county is going 'over the top in a big way' and you are to be commended for the splendid cooperation you have given the program. Your time, effort and money have been volunteered in the patriotic drive and results are outstanding. With thousands of pounds already in your stations there are still many persons who have not made an effort to add to the scrap pile. I hope these people will do their small part in the few days remaining in the solicitation, and find every ounce of scrap rubber in this city and county.

CIRCUITEER.

TO CITIZENS

ALL: Nurses and doctors grow scarce. It is expected that there will soon be only one-third of the usual number available for civilian service. The rest will be in military service at home or abroad. This means that the people at home will have to get along with much less of such professional service than usual. How are they going to do it? First, if they are wise and cooperative, they will take over, as far as possible, the job of taking care of themselves. This does not mean avoiding medical or nursing care when such care is really needed. It means living as sensibly as they can, making an extra effort to keep in good health, instead of living unwisely and letting themselves run down. Proper food, reasonable exercise and plenty of sleep are "indicated," as the doctor would say. That is the physical part of the job. Then there is the mental part, which is handled best by keeping busy with constructive work and refusing to worry. Not too busy, though, to have a little freedom and fun now and then. The fighting men themselves do that.

CIRCUITEER.

TO PUMPKIN SHOW CHIEFS

OFFICIALS: Recent announcement by the federal government that all state and county fairs may have to be called off due to war-time conditions comes as a blow to your Society which has already started plans for this year's show. No one knows just what the outcome will be as yet, but a great responsibility rests in your hands in case the issue is put up as a voluntary regulation. We all realize the traditional importance of the yearly exhibit, but right now the important question is war. I'm sure that if the government requests you to do so, that you will see fit to postpone the activity this year.

CIRCUITEER.

TO TRAVELERS

MOTORISTS: The following suggestions are made to persons who intend to do some celebrating over the Fourth of July holiday. By following them you might help save a life.

1. Don't use fireworks. Leave the shooting this year to the men in uniform.
2. Avoid long automobile trips. If you must drive, cut down your speed and step up your caution. You'll save cars, tires and lives.
3. Don't overdo in exercise, eating or exposure to sun.
4. If you swim—Don't go in alone or when overheated; Wait an hour after eating; Know the depth of the water; Don't show off or indulge in horseplay.
5. Remember—accidents help the Axis!

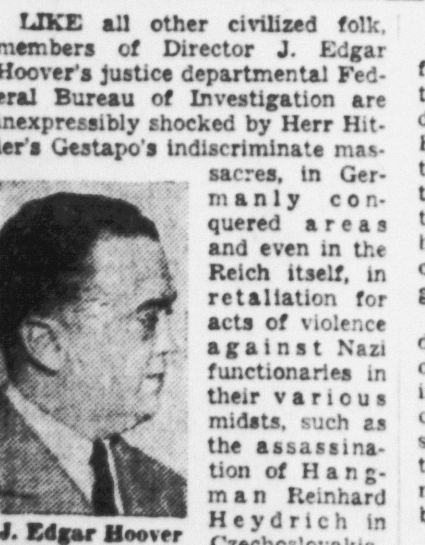

CIRCUITEER.

TO POPULACE

FRIENDS: Every one by this time is aware that the big Army Air Base north of Ashville is going to become the nation's leading base for training of glider pilots. Personnel is already moving into the base's barracks, instructors are on the grounds and training will be starting around the middle of next month. Numerous reports have been heard concerning the base and its purpose, but the War office cleared all questions the other day when it announced glider training would be started there. A couple of persons living in northern Pickaway county have been heard to say that they will be afraid to work in their fields because of the possibility of gliders dropping on them. I believe that their fears are in poor taste. Truly, gliders are something of which we know little, and of which the government is hoping to learn much more, too. Uncle Sam knows that Hitler's men took the isle of Crete with gliders and that his troops have added other territory to the axis by using the devices. I hope that after Uncle Sam's first glider action in which troops are landed behind enemy lines and a great victory is marked up on our side that we can sit back in our chairs and say: "Those glider pilots were trained over our country."

WORLD AT A GLANCE

J. Edgar Hoover

For instance, we have here a few Axis representatives, who I want to be kept in suppression. But we don't attend to 'em without trials. Before being 'em as pinched, they have to be detective-sized intensively. Nobody's penalized until he's had something pinned on him conclusively. He has to be convicted as regularly as a burglar.

But suppose that some Reich-dominated community is suspected of having a handful of anti-Nazis in its makeup, but the Gestapo can't spot the exact individuals. In such a situation the Gestapo's system is to wipe out the whole community, to make sure that no bet's being overlooked in the process. The FBI considers this method unscientific, as well as inhuman. The FBI boys are detectives—very classy ones, but, in principle, just like any other detective corps, here or elsewhere. Now, the average town is affected by some criminals who ought to be caught—stuck-up men and various assorted outlaws. The local "tocs" are anxious to get 'em. They don't advocate arresting EVERYBODY, though, with no exceptions. The Gestapo does—and not alone ARRESTING everybody, but killing everybody who's arrested, and without a trial, either. True, there is a certain consistency in killing 'em all without trial, for trials might result in 10 or 15 per cent of acquittals. The FBI doesn't, indeed, make this latter allowance in the Gestapo's favor. Its judgment is that, in addition to being plain homicidal, its crew are hamfats as detectives. Its theory is that if the Gestapo wants to stop the assassination of Nazis (provided the bumping off of a chap like Hangman Heydrich can properly be referred to as assassination), the birds who executed him, should be landed. Otherwise, it's a fair assumption that they'll keep it up, or they wouldn't have taken the initial chances.

Reprisal Threats
Oh, yes, it's argued that an anti-Nazi, even if he gets away, will be scared by threats of reprisals against friends and relatives that he's left behind him.

It's a fair guess, though, that he'll have tipped these folk off to what's coming. And, anyway, if the Gestapo doesn't know who he is, how's it going to know just what friends and relatives of his to reprise against? They may be caught in the jam, to be sure—but so's ANYBODY liable to be caught in the jam in the midst of an indiscriminate massacre.

Until the Soviets became involved in the war, alongside the democracies, the Russian OGPU was regarded by the FBI with as much disfavor as the Gestapo is today. It's different now. The OGPU's quite well spoken of now. Maybe this is partly because the OGPU's on our side now. Yet FBI spokesmen say at present that it's been more intelligent, all along, than ever the Gestapo was. In short, the professional detectives' essential charge against the Gestapo isn't so much wholesale murder as wholesale idiocy.

"It's beautiful, Horace. I can't accept it as an engagement ring, but I'd like to keep it to remember you by!"

DIET AND HEALTH

Finds "Hidden Hunger" Alarm Not Justified

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

"THE PROBLEM boils down to what has been called 'hidden hunger' which, by definition, cannot be diagnosed clinically." This pronouncement by Dr. William T. Salter, Professor of Pharmacology at Yale University, may be taken as my text for my views of a government movie called "Hidden Hunger." If it can't be diagnosed, how do we know it exists? In order to free myself from the accusation that my comments on the vitamins are my own opinion unshared by anyone else, I quote from Dr. W. J. R. Camp, of the University of Illinois:

$100,000,000 Business
"Little did Casimir Funk realize when he coined the word 'vitamin' that he was furnishing the catchword for a one hundred million dollar business. Probably nothing medical has captured the imagination of the public so thoroughly as the vitamin deficiency question. Ironically, the greatest trade in vitamins is in communities where there is sufficient money to provide adequate diets. A person financially unable to provide a balanced diet cannot afford to buy the expensive vitamin products. The self-conviction that one is vitamin-deficient is almost of paranoid quality; the premise is false, but the results are satisfying."

My desk seems to have been flooded recently with articles about the vitamins, as if everyone was taking a kind of satisfaction in goading me. One article seriously proposes that all draftees who have visual defects be given the right kind of vitamins and they won't have to wear glasses.

Another one says that the vitamins cure insanity so we could relieve all the institutions for the mentally deranged in the land by giving the inmates vitamins. Another proposes that all truck drivers who run at night eat carrots before they start so that they can see better in the dark. I once had a cat named Belinda. I can state as a positive fact that that cat never ate a carrot in her life or any yeast either, but on a night that was darker than the inside of your shoe she could still see a mouse.

Little "Hidden Hunger"
In the government movie it says that three people out of four don't know how to eat. Such propaganda as "Hidden Hunger" seems to me to break down civilian morale by making all those who see it self-conscious about their health and diet. Understand that I thoroughly agree with the idea that everybody's diet should contain vegetables, fruits, bread and butter, meat, eggs and milk, but as far as my observations go most people in the United States are getting these things and most people are not suffering from "hidden hunger." Object to the Government of the United States descending to the level of a patent medicine advertiser.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
N. H. K.: Can you tell me something about pilonidal sinus? Is there any prevention for it and at what age does it occur mostly?
Answer: Pilonidal sinus is a congenital defect of development at the end of the spine. It never causes any trouble unless the sinus becomes infected and is easy to remove surgically.

Romance Thumbs a Ride

by ALLEN EPPES

RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

SYNOPSIS
DIAN WESTON, an Ardendale girl, who has just been jilted, more or less accidentally meets
BILL ROLLINS, New York artist, who has just been jilted also, by an Ardendale girl.
CLAIRE LESTER, Claire has turned down Bill, saying that she has discovered she loves
PAUL PETERS, a local boy, who is now an engineer.

YESTERDAY: Claire reminisces on how Bill courted her in New York.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

AND NOW here she was in a lonely farmhouse with Bill, far from the penthouse studio, Claire reflected. Still finding him charming, sweet, gentle. And adaptable. Yes, that was just the word for it. At home in a penthouse or a farmhouse. She and Bill alone there in the old dining room, setting a table for four, almost as though they were married and keeping house together.

Alone with Bill, and about to marry Paul.

A sense of confusion took possession of her, dreadful feeling of uncertainty. Had she made a terrible mistake? Had she been a complete little fool to jilt Bill the moment Paul appeared upon the scene?

"Why so silent?" Bill asked.

"Thinking," said Claire. "I've been thinking."

"So have I," said Bill.

"What about?"

"Us. You and me."

"What about us?"

"I was thinking that it's going to be much more exciting for you in the West Indies with Peters than to live in Manhattan with me," said Bill.

"Why so?"

"Oh, down among the islands you can sort of queen it and—"

"Bill, my thinking had to do with us—too."

"Really?"

"Yes."

"Well, it was fun while it lasted, wasn't it?"

Claire toyed with a knife for a moment. "I mean, I've been thinking a lot about all of us—you, and Paul and myself. I've been thinking about your backgrounds, your environments. You see, Bill, I—I—"

She caught her breath, and then asked, "Bill, are you terribly hurt over what I did to you?"

"I suppose I am," said Bill. "But things have been happening to me so thick and fast and unexpectedly ever since you showed me the gate. I haven't had time to realize just what it's going to mean—going on without you."

"Dear dear Bill."

Bill hunted for some napkins in the huge sideboard. "Don't feel too bad," he said. "I'll pull through."

"But, Bill—"

"In fact," Bill went on, "I'm really trying to be a good sport, Claire. In fact, if you and Paul will wait until daylight to be married, I'll be your best man. And maybe we can persuade Dian to be your bridesmaid."

"You certainly do seem to think a lot of her," Claire remarked. "By the way, just how did you meet her—I mean, really?"

"We told you. She hit me with a shoe."

"That's hard to believe. It sounds like something out of a movie."

"Nevertheless it's the truth," Bill grinned. "You wouldn't be grudge me a little solace, would you? I'll probably develop a bad case of the let-downs after you and Peters have sailed."

"I'm not so sure about sailing," said Claire.

"What do you mean?"

"Well, I—that is, I think it's Fate."

"You think what's Fate, Claire?"

"The three of us being thrown here together like this—you, Paul and me."

"I thought a stuck car caused it."

"Bill, I'm serious. Please don't poke fun at me."

"I'm not," said Bill. "I just don't take much stock in this Fate business. Coincidence, maybe—but as far as Fate taking a hand, well—"

"Don't you see?" Claire leaned close to him, touched his hand with her fingertips. "I'm being given an opportunity to see you and Paul together—to watch you—study you."

Bill laughed. "You make me feel like a microbe playing hooky," he said.

"Go on, laugh if you want to," said Claire. "But there's something wonderful about the way you adapt yourself—take hold—get things done."

"Claire, you're letting your imagination run away with you!"

"I'm not. And I still think it's Fate." Claire stepped even closer to Bill. "It's something hard to explain—but I feel that I am being put purposely in a position where I can make comparisons. You know, compare you and Paul—make tests."

"Tests?"

"Yes. Bill. Like someone in a laboratory."

"You're funny, Claire. I never suspected you of possessing a scientific mind."

"I haven't such a mind," Claire said. "It's only that having you and Paul under the same roof with me gives me a sort of—of—chance to see how you both react. You do understand, don't you, Bill?"

"I suppose so—though more or less vaguely."

"What I really mean is that I want to make—"

"—tests," said Paul, entering with a bowl of steaming beans.

"Paul, how rude!" Claire said.

Paul paid no attention to her. He turned to Bill.

"I take it," he said, "that Claire's been telling you that it's Fate."

"Yes, as a matter of fact she has," said Bill. Then, seeing Claire's discomfiture, and feeling sorry for her, he said, "Perhaps it is."

Claire brightened immediately.

"Thank you, Bill, dear," she said. "I knew you'd understand."

Later, when they were all seated, and a general conversation was under way, Dian found herself watching Bill Rollins' face and that of Claire.

She wondered if Bill was going to be a weakling and give in should Claire change her mind again. It was certainly easy to see that Claire was playing up to him, that she was getting a thrill out of having her two would-be husbands there at the same table with her.

"Oh, well, Dian said to herself, 'eat your beans and mind your own business.' And then she thought: 'What on earth is Bill Rollins to you?'

She was just about to say that Bill Rollins meant nothing to her—nothing at all—when Bill caught her eye and smiled. That knocked everything cockeyed. Bill had a smile that did things to her—warmed the cockles of her heart, made her decide that maybe romance did exist outside of books and plays. Then she thought—"love at first sight"—something which she'd heard did happen now and then. Well, of all things! The idea of a girl in her right mind thinking about such an absurdity. Or maybe she wasn't in her right mind. Jilted girl eyeing jilted man, and wondering if she could be falling in love with him. Utter nonsense. Utter trips. To be a bit vulgar. And yet—and yet—

Her thoughts rushed back down the years to her Grandfather Weston. He had believed in love at first sight. In fact, it had happened to him, and also to Grandmother Weston.

"I first saw your grandmother in church," her grandfather had told her on a rainy evening when he was in a reminiscent mood. "That is, the girl who afterward became your grandmother." A smile in the keen blue eyes, a slow nodding of the white-haired head. "It was on a morning in June. The sunlight was streaming in through the stained-glass windows, and there she sat—Dian Esterbrook, a girl who had just moved to Ardendale. She looked pink and sweet and like one of the angels the minister was talking about."

"And," she remembered asking him, "you knew you loved her then and there?"

"Yes, honey, I did. And afterward—that is, after a sort of 'ladylike' passing of time, your grandmother admitted that she'd felt the same way about me."

"And you lived happily ever after?"

"Yes, my dear. We were sometimes called the happiest married couple in Arden county."

Girl Scout Silver Tea Proves Excellent Event

More Than Fifty Attend Splendid Social Affair

Girl Scouts of Troop 4 delightfully entertained at a Silver tea Thursday in the Post room of Memorial hall, the colorful decorations of red, white and blue making a lovely setting for the dances presented by several pupils of the London studio of Miss Phoebe Lothrop of Columbus. Jacqueline Smith and Anne McMordie of Circleville, who appeared last week at London, presented one Dutch dance in quaint outfits and later, a ballet number in lovely blue and pink ballet costumes.

Tap dances, waltzes, gavottes, ballet and Spanish dances were included in the highly entertaining program presented by the visitors.

Wearing fresh new costumes of great originality, the young performers showed attention to detail in the various numbers that spoke of careful training. Miss Lothrop was seen in one dance in the closing Spanish Fiesta ensemble.

During intermission, the Girl Scout chorus sang three selections, "Girl Scouts are We," "Gypsy Song," and "Girl Scouts Together." Mrs. Karl Herjmann playing the piano accompaniment.

The program numbers were announced by Miss Frances Meinfelder.

Tea was served following the splendid entertainment, the tea table having a centerpiece of red, white and blue flowers flanked with tall ivory tapers. Crepe paper in red, white and blue formed "V's" for victory on the white cloth and the patriotic theme was continued in the napkins. Girl Scouts were hostesses during the social hour.

Baskets of Summer garden flowers completed the decorations for the affair.

More than 50 were present. The troop received a gift of two silver dollars from the American Legion auxiliary as an appreciation for assistance of Girl Scouts on Poppy Day. The money received by the scouts through the sale of articles for their First Aid kits which they plan to make themselves.

The Girl Scouts have just completed the Junior First Aid course of the Red Cross under the instruction of Mrs. W. W. Robinson and have had their instruction in the Girl Scout Home Nursing course under Miss Margaret Hunsicker. Miss Ruth Stout is troop leader.

U. B. Aid Society
The June session of the United Brethren Ladies' aid society was held Thursday in the community house with 27 members and visitors present. Mrs. W. B. Cady conducted the business meeting and Mrs. Ross Kirkpatrick was in charge of the devotional service.

Mrs. Charles Richardson, secretary, and Mrs. A. H. Morris, treasurer, read the year reports.

Arrangements were made to serve dinner July 21 for the Ministerial Council of administration of finance.

An old fashioned school was conducted with Mrs. Kirkpatrick as teacher and Mrs. Morris taking the part of the school dunces. All members participated.

Mrs. A. N. Gruesser was in charge of the program of readings including "What Father's Day in 1942 Means to Me," Mrs. Morris; "Give Dad a Thought," Mrs. Frank Hawkes, and "What to Do on Father's Day," Mrs. Gruesser. "Faith of our Fathers" was the closing hymn.

Refreshments were served by the June lunch committee comprised of Mrs. Pearl Harrison, Mrs. Hattie Baker, Mrs. Charles L. Ridge, Mrs. Florence Wise and Mrs. Mary Justice.

Five Points Auxiliary
The auxiliary of the Five Points Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Harvey Brigner June 24. Mrs. Charles Hosler had charge of the business hour and the Rev. Mr. Scott read the devotional service.

The group decided to serve Refreshment dinners again this year. Thirty-five members and guests were present.

Mrs. Brigner was assisted by Mrs. Josie Drake in serving refreshments.

SOLDIER ENVIED

Envy of his several thousand buddies in Chico (Calif.) Army Flying School this week is Private Alfred Sloan, plane mechanic, from Canton, Missouri. He was Dinah Shore's "date" for a whole day last Sunday.

He took her for a ride in a jeep, escorted her through the ordinarily forbidden Officers' Club, stood on the reviewing stand with her and Lt. Col. Raymond Lester, commanding officer, while the entire field marched by, took her to dinner in the enlisted men's mess and was the last to see her off at the camp gate after Dinah had sung to the full personnel for an hour.

Reason for the affair was a bond drive in the camp, with all enlisted men who signed up for bonds getting a chance at a date with Dinah, who flew up from Hollywood for the day. Spurred on by the hope of a squiring the glamorous Blue network radio songstress, the soldiers subscribed for $25,000 worth of bonds. Dinah is heard Fridays at 9:30 on the Blue chain.

JUSTIN FOR BONDS
Jay Justin, who plays the title role in "Mr. District Attorney," made a Broadway stage appearance last week, doing a job that he calls one of the most important things he ever did on a stage. Between acts of "Porgy and Bess," he addressed the theatre audience in behalf of the United States War Bond campaign.

TUNES EX-HAUSTED
An encore is an encore, but Phil Spitalny and his "Hour of Charm" all-girl orchestra and choir set some sort of record along those lines, in a recent engagement at Camp Lee. Having exhausted their list of encore numbers, they had no other music to offer the service men. Finally, Maestro Spitalny jokingly suggested that there was nothing left to do but go through the entire show again, from the beginning. The soldiers took him up on it!

BORGE TO CINEMA
Victor Borge, Danish comedian on Bing Crosby's program, is budding this week on a deal which will put him back in pictures. In Denmark Borge was the country's top cinema actor.

STORY FOR MECHANICS
First-hand accounts of the luff-waffe in action will be given to West Coast North American aviation workers, who make one of America's most effective warplanes, by CBS Commentator Harry W. Flannery this week. During the Fall of 1941, Flannery saw Nazi air battles on several European fronts.

Discounting the feeling that precious tires are wearing out, it is a very pleasant tour up U. S. route 23 these days to the Franklin county line amid the thousands of various colored hollyhocks which are to be seen on either side of the highway.

That many people are commenting on the beauty of these flowers along this road is putting it mildly, for it is really one thing that is causing the ladies (and some men) to talk and rave, thusly, "Aren't those bee-ootiful", "And such delicate pastel shades", and "My, I wonder who thought of planting those along the roadside", etc.

Talked to some of the Boy Scouts who are making a house-to-house canvas of the village for surplus rubber and they had a good report to make. Said they had been treated kindly everywhere. Found that in many homes visited, rubber had already been turned in to collecting stations. Hope to complete their work within the next couple of days.

Superintendent of Water Works Cecil Scott is out on the extra go now, reading the water measuring meters and to be exact, there are 282 of them. Seven years ago, April 1, 1935, when water was turned into the distributing mains, there were 180 meters. Several are now on the waiting list but plumbing material can not be secured.

Got him well trained and broke in, and before township trustee Harry Rose starts in to "talk bee," a card of nice white clover honey must put an appearance and this it does. Can't be handing out this expert advice for nothing. But the thing needed now, most of all with his 30 colonies, is a mechanical device known as a "honey extractor". Call Harry at South Bloomfield if any one has such bee tool on hand and for sale, rent or give away.

WHIRLY READY TO RUN FOR ARMY-NAVY FUND, BUT FOES REMAIN OUT

CHICAGO, June 26—"Whirly" was willing but Market Wise, Alasab and Shut Out all sent regrets.

That was the reason today for the cancellation of the proposed $30,000 winner-take-all invitational event which was to have been an added feature of the Army-Navy program July 4 at the Arlington park race track.

Market Wise had developed a slight cough. Alasab was forced out of training temporarily because of a splint. In declining the invitation, the owners of Shut Out said they already had made commitments in the East.

But the Arlington park management said that Warren Wright, owner of Whirlyaway, last year's Kentucky derby winner, replied he would be glad to run his star thoroughbred in the event.

DODGERS, YANKS LEAD ALL-STAR TEAM CHOICES

Seven Bums, Nine New York Champions Selected To Play July 6

By JACK MAHON

NEW YORK, June 26—The Bums led the parade, once more, it was disclosed today when President Ford Frick revealed that no less than seven members of the Brooklyn Dodgers, his league champions last Summer, headed the roster of the 1942 National League all-star team which will meet the American league's best at the Polo Grounds on July 6.

The winner of that game will journey to Cleveland, where at twilight the next night, it will take on the best possible team that can be garnered from the armed forces of our nation. Proceeds from both contests will be turned over to the Army Emergency Relief and the Navy Relief Societies and both will be twilight contests.

This year's National squad, which will be out to cut down the one-sided lead the Americans enjoy in this one-sided rivalry (they have won six of the nine games played to date) as headed by Whit Wyatt, Arnold (Mickey) Owen, Billy Herman, Pee Wee Reese, Peter Reiser, Arky Vaughan and Joe Medwick of the Dodgers; five members of the St. Louis Cardinals; Four from the New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds; two men from the Boston Braves and one each from Philadelphia, Chicago and Pittsburgh to complete the squad.

Durocher To Manage

As per custom that quiet young man, Leo Durocher, manager of the Bums, will manage the National. He has selected Bill McKechnie of the Reds and Frank Kechich of the Pirates as his coaches.

A look at the squad shows that this year's team, might enter the game favored for it has a very strong hurling staff and a well balanced attack and defense.

On the mound the Lip can throw Mort Cooper of the Cards, who only yesterday hurled his sixth shutout of the year against Boston, in there to open the fray and follow up with any of the following: Wyatt, Passeau of the Cubs; Vander Meer or Derringer of the Reds or Melton of the Giants.

For his infield the Lip has selected Mize and McCormick as first basemen; Brown of the Cards and Herman as second sackers; Roose and Ed Miller as shortstops and Vaughn and Elliott, of the Pirates to take care of the hot corner.

In the outfield we find Pete Reiser and Medwick the two league leading batters as well as Slaughter of the Cards; Manager Mel Ott of the Cards; Terry Moore of the Cards; Dan Litwhiler of the Phils and Willard Marshall of the Giants.

Behind the plate the Nationals can call on Owens; Walker Cooper of the Cards or Ernie Lombardi of the Braves.

The only notable member among the missing is Stan Musial, the Cards' fine rookie. Stan, an outfielder, hitting .319 at the moment, was not named by the managerial board whose votes decide the squad.

This will be the eighth all-star game in nine years for Ott, Medwick and Herman. They all missed the premiere of the stunt in Chicago in 1933 but have been on every squad since.

This will be the freshman year in the classic for the St. Louis brother battery of M. and W. Cooper; Melton, Brown, Reese, Litwhiler and Marshall, while 16 of the boys named are repeaters from last year's battle, won by the Americans, 7 to 5, when Ted Williams of the Red Sox slammed a tenth inning homer.

The American league team finds the World Champion Yankees taking most of the honors by placing no less than nine men. Detroit and Boston shared second place honors by putting in four men each.

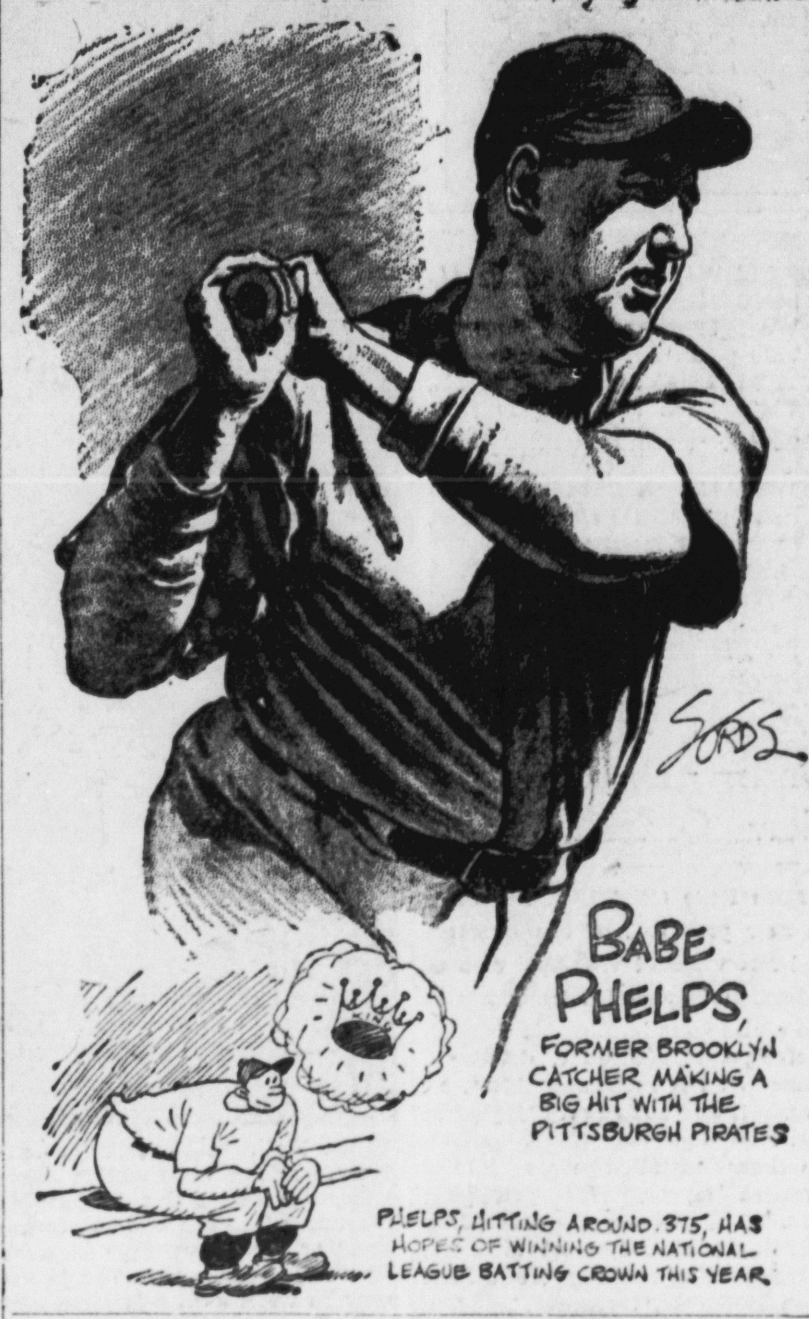

DiMaggio There

For the seventh straight year the great Jo DiMaggio, despite a hitting slump this season, headed the list of champions. Joe, oddly enough, has been one of the biggest flops in all-star competition, his average for six games being only .160. Because he is in such poor form right now we wouldn't be a bit surprised to see him loose and wreck the ball park with his this time.

Other Yankees named included Pitchers Red Ruffing, Ernie Bonham and Spud Chandler; Infielders Joe Gordon and Phil Rizzuto; Outfielder Tommy Henrich and Catchers Bill Dickey and Buddy Rosar.

Boston has Doerr, Hughson, D.

Cooper After Calcimine Mark Held By Old Alex

By International News Service

He still has a lot of hot afternoons to go, but Mort Cooper today had his pitching sights set on the shutout record for the National League. Grover Cleveland Alexander set the mark of 16 scoreless games while playing at Philadelphia back in 1916.

When Cooper pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a two-hit 4 to 0 victory over the Boston Braves yesterday, the big fire-baller chalked up his sixth shutout with limber-arm, hot weather days to come. The victory, which kept the Cards from losing ground to the streaking Brooklyn Dodgers, was Cooper's eighth in a row and tenth of the season. He was in front before he threw a fast one, his mates picking up a run off Al Javery in the first inning.

That was sufficient for the older of the Cooper brothers battery, who was showing off before an Army-Navy relief crowd of 25,093 fans.

Brooklyn also enjoyed a shutout victory, beating the Cincinnati Reds by a 4 to 0 margin. Johnny Allen, starting his first game since May 30, held the Reds to five scattered bingles and thus maintained the Flock's menacing, nine-game lead. Allen out-pitched the Cincinnati 36-year-old rookie sensation, Ray Starr. The Dodgers chased Starr in the third, handing him his third defeat against eleven victories. Allen chalked up his fifth win against four losses.

Ducky Medwick ran his hitting streak to 27 games, six short of Rogers Hornsby's National League record.

Lee Gets Ninth

Bill Lee limited Philadelphia to five hits to give the Chicago Cubs a 7 to 1 victory over the Phils. The win was Lee's ninth of the season. Pittsburgh and New York were idle because of a schedule.

In the American league, Buck Ross carried himself a shutout over the Washington Senators as his Chicago White Sox pals collected a 2 to 0 victory. Ross gave up six hits but kept them nicely scattered. Sid Hudson allowed the Sox only five bingles but they put two of them together for a run in the third, and duplicated the trick in the fourth.

Detroit staged a six-run rally in the eighth frame to whip Boston, 7 to 3. Hal White went the distance for the Tigers to score his sixth victory. Johnny Bloodworth's two-run homer sparked Detroit's big inning.

Cleveland won its third straight game from Philadelphia by a 4 to 1 score. Al Smith, who held the Yankees to one hit in his last outing, limited the A's to five blows for his sixth win.

The scheduled contest between New York and St. Louis was postponed because of weather.

Presbyterians on TOP IN CHURCH LOOP GAME

Presbyterian softball team won a 7-5 decision Thursday evening from the Lutheran outfit in the Church league. All scoring was confined to the first five innings, neither denting the plate in the last two cantos.

Sammy Moorehead pitched for the winners with Wells and Walters tossing for the losers. Lineups included: Presbyterian: Smallwood c, Walker cf, Carr 3b, Woods 1b, Colville 2b, Smith ss, Moorehead p, Welker lf, Blake rf, Alexander cf.

Lutheran: Leist c, Wells p, Martin 1b, P. Walters ss-p, Siegwald lf, Dreisbach sf, Siegwald 3b, Mogan rf, D. Walters 2b, R. May cf.

DiMaggio and Williams in while the others teams will contribute the following men: Detroit, Benton, Newhouse, York and Tebbets; Cleveland, Boudreau, Keltner and Bagby; Washington, Hudson Spence; Chicago, Ed Smith; St. Louis, McQuinn and Philadelphia, Johnson.

WILDCAT GOLFER LONE BIG TEN HOPE IN CLASSIC

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 26—On 20-year-old bespectacled Manuel De La Torre rested today the hopes of the Western Conference for a finalist in the 45th national intercollegiate golf tournament in progress over the Chain O'Lakes course of the South Bend Country club.

He was pitted in today's semi-finals against Robert Kuntz of Yale, with Harold Glojme of the University of Washington and Frank Tatum of Stanford hooking up in the other match.

De La Torre, who has been swinging a golf club practically since his infancy, recently finished his sophomore year at Notre Western and was the first Wildcat student ever to reach the semi-finals in the intercollegiate tournament.

He attained this distinction by beating Bob Kuntz's brother, Bill like Bob from Yale, 2 and 1, yesterday's morning round and then whaling Allan Whaling of Cincinnati, 6 and 5, in the afternoon.

Bob Kuntz advanced by 5 and 3 and 3 and 2 victories over John Krisko of Ohio State and John Holmstrom of Illinois, respectively.

Glojme, 21-year-old tow head came up to the semi-finals by beating Ray Brownell of Stanford 1 up in the morning round and then John Stoltz of Northwestern in the afternoon.

Tatum's victories were over Keith Wells of the University of Washington, 3 to 2, and Dale Morey of Louisiana State, 2 and 1.

Decision on 1942 Fairs To Be Reached First of Week

Ohio Association Called To Meeting Monday By Myers Y. Cooper

EASTMAN STANDS FIRM

Transportation Chief Says Travel To Events Not Necessity

Fate of Ohio's numerous county fairs, including Circleville Pumpkin Show, probably will be decided Monday when a meeting of the Ohio Fair Managers' association is held in Columbus, it was announced Friday by former Governor Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, honorary president of the association.

Cooper's statement followed a reaffirmation in Washington by Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, of his policy that travel to and from state and county fairs is nonessential and that fairs should be postponed for the duration of the war.

Eastman issued his statement in Washington to F. H. Kingman, of Brockton, Mass., general manager of the International Association of Fairs, R. A. Lee, representing the St. Paul-Minneapolis state fair association and other fair officials including a delegation from Ohio.

Cooper said: "The fair managers want to be absolutely cooperative, but fairs can render a fine service in the war effort. We want to hear directly from the Washington delegation before making a definite decision."

Harmful to Morale

The delegation argued that postponement of fairs would wreck a billion dollar industry, throw thousands of persons out of employment and would be harmful to the morale of farmers and others interested in fairs.

Eastman agreed that postponement of fairs will be a hardship to the farmer, but declared that "it will be by no means an intolerable deprivation."

"Rubber-borne cars and trucks used by farmers must be made to last until new sources of rubber have been developed and we can count on no less than three years for that," Eastman said. "If the vehicles are to last, clearly all unnecessary use must be avoided. I do not believe that their use for attendance at fairs can be properly classed as necessary; nor do I believe that such use is at all negligible."

"If convinced that postponement of fairs will contribute to the good of the country in time of war, the farmers will not give it a second thought."

Ben Gordon, president of the local Agricultural society, has expressed his desire to cooperate in the program if other cities do likewise.

JOHN H. HOOVER DIES FOLLOWING LEG OPERATION

John Henry Hoover, a lifelong resident of Ashville, died Thursday in Grant hospital, Columbus, where he had undergone amputation of his right leg during an attack of blood poisoning.

He was born December 25, 1862, in Pickaway township, the son of Philip and Sarah Bowsher Hoover.

His wife, the former Sarah Morrison, has been dead for many years.

Mr. Hoover leaves six children, Herbert Hoover, Mrs. Maude Taranto and Millard F. Hoover of Columbus; J. S. Hoover, Ashville; Mrs. Mary Shultz of Royal Oak, Mich., and Homer E. Hoover of Akron.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 10 a. m. in the Ashville United Brethren church with the Rev. O. W. Smith officiating. Burial in charge of E. F. Schlegel will be in the South Bloomfield cemetery.

FINAL DRIVE FOR RUBBER SOUGHT IN LOCAL AREA

With only two more days remaining in the scrap rubber drive, the people of Circleville and Pickaway county have once again been asked by officials to make a final search for the material in their homes.

Pickaway county's quota for the drive has been officially set by the state as 160,000 pounds. To date the drive has yielded about 50,000 pounds but some 80,000 pounds are laying in junk yards here thus indicating that the goal may be reached if all persons cooperate in the last days of the effort.

Stations throughout the county will receive the rubber. Unless enough scrap is collected here it is possible that the government may decree gas rationing to save tires.

COLUMBUS, June 26—Governor Bricker, in telegrams to all mayors of the state, today proclaimed Saturday as Ohio Rubber day and at the same time appealed to farmers to assist in the drive for scrap rubber.

The proclamation grew out of a conference between the governor and E. V. Weber, chairman of the Ohio scrap rubber committee of the petroleum industry.

The governor's telegram read: "Although public response in the rubber drive has been great, a survey today indicates that 31 percent of the public has done nothing toward collecting scrap rubber. In view of this I am designating Saturday, June 27, as Ohio Rubber day with an appeal to farmers to bring in their scrap rubber to a city or community celebration which I ask you to hold Saturday. The oil companies will pay one cent per pound for this scrap. I feel confident your patriotism will stimulate an enthusiastic climax to this most important of all Ohio patriotic programs."

Furnace Foundry Company To Be Converted; Many To Obtain Jobs

WASHINGTON C. H., June 26—Plans were announced here today for converting the newly constructed Furnace Foundry Company building into a plant for the making of airplane parts.

The Aeronautical Product Company of Detroit has announced purchase of the $2,500,000 enterprise from the furnace corporation and stated that after the assembly lines in the plant are put in full swing some several thousand persons will be employed in the work.

The foundry company has announced that it will build another building in the city of equal size thus giving the city two large industries.

Leo Fedigan, who came here as head of the furnace plant, has been employed as plant foreman for the airplane project.

Fort Hayes for U. S. Army service, has been sent to Camp Claiborne, La.

Clarence Francis, East Main street, has received word that his son, Raymond, has won an appointment as an aviation cadet and will soon be transferred from his present camp at Claiborne, Louisiana, to a replacement center for flying cadets. Young Francis has completed basic training in flying courses and is a radio specialist at the present time.

Carl Yale, formerly of Circleville, has been transferred from Keeler field, Biloxi, Miss., to New Orleans, La., where he is engaged in mechanic trades school training at Delgado Trades school.

Charles Crabb of near New Holland, has entered air corps training at Keeler field, Miss. He was drafted May 28.

Byron Stinson of New Holland left with a contingent of 100 Ohio college students this week for the University of Iowa, Iowa City, to receive three months' of basic training as a U. S. Navy fighter pilot. On graduation, he will be commissioned an ensign.

Private William D. Radcliff, former Pickaway county representative in the general assembly, has been assigned to the Judge Advocate's office at Keeler field, Biloxi, Miss.

LOANS APPROVED

Under recent legislative action by congress, Land Bank Commissioner loans will continue to be available to farmers in this vicinity. Miss Ethel Brobst, secretary-treasurer of the Pickaway county National Farm Loan Association, reports congress extended authorization to make Land Bank Commissioner loans to June 30, 1943.
